

ShopEase Nepal

Warranty Policy

Effective date: October 1, 2026

This policy explains warranty coverage for eligible products sold by ShopEase Nepal. Warranty terms can differ by product and manufacturer.

1. Warranty Coverage

Products with a stated manufacturer or ShopEase warranty are covered for the warranty period shown on the product page, invoice, warranty card, or accompanying documentation.

Warranty coverage normally applies to manufacturing defects arising under normal intended use.

The warranty period begins on the date of delivery unless the product documentation states otherwise.

2. What Is Covered

Covered issues may include failure of an internal component, manufacturing defect, or other fault specifically included in the product's warranty terms.

Depending on the product and warranty provider, the remedy may be repair, replacement, or refund.

3. What Is Not Covered

- Accidental damage, drops, cracks, liquid damage, burns, or physical impact.
- Normal wear and tear, cosmetic damage, or battery degradation where excluded by the manufacturer's terms.
- Damage caused by misuse, unauthorized modification, improper installation, or use contrary to product instructions.
- Damage caused by unauthorized repair or service.
- Loss of data, software configuration, or accessories unless expressly covered by the applicable warranty.

4. Warranty Claim Process

Customers should contact support with the order number, product details, description of the problem, and photographs or video when useful.

ShopEase may perform basic troubleshooting before approving a warranty inspection.

If an inspection is required, the customer must follow the provided shipping or service-center instructions.

5. Warranty Inspection

The warranty provider may inspect the product to determine whether the reported issue is covered.

If the issue is not covered, the customer may be responsible for inspection, shipping, or repair charges where applicable. Such charges should be communicated before paid repair work is authorized.

6. Repair and Replacement

If a warranty claim is approved, ShopEase or the authorized service provider may repair the product or replace it with an equivalent product, subject to availability and the applicable warranty terms.

Replacement products may be new or functionally equivalent products where permitted by the manufacturer.

Repair or replacement does not automatically restart the original warranty period unless the manufacturer specifically provides a new warranty period.

7. Warranty Documents

Customers should retain the invoice, order number, warranty card, and serial number where applicable.

If manufacturer warranty terms conflict with this general policy, the product-specific manufacturer warranty may control for technical warranty coverage.
